Suggestion for new Victorian electoral division name.

I would like to suggest naming a new electorate division after Faith Bandler, Pearl Gibbs, or Oodgeroo Noonuccal. All these women fought for the democratic and citizenship rights of Indigenous people, many at a time when Indigenous Australians had less rights under law than white Australians. Information on them all is readily available online. It would be a fitting tribute to any of these women and help increase the tiny proportion of electorate divisions named after significant Aboriginal people.
