

Providing proof of COVID-19 vaccination or medical exemption

All AEC temporary election workers are required to provide proof of COVID-19 vaccination or valid medical exemption. Proof can be digital or printed.

Acceptable forms of vaccination proof:

- COVID-19 vaccine certificate through MyGov or Medicare Express app
- COVID-19 digital certificate linked to your state or territory check-in app or stored in Apple Wallet or Google Pay
- Immunisation history statement

Acceptable forms of medical exemption proof:

- Recorded on your COVID-19 vaccine certificate
- Recorded on your Immunisation History statement
- Evidence issued by the Australian Immunisation register

(Note, if you have a temporary medical exemption, this must be valid for the duration of your temporary employment with the AEC).

Who	When and where to provide proof
Polling staff attending face-to-face training.	To the facilitator at face-to-face training before starting work.
Polling staff who do not attend face-to-face training.	To the Officer in Charge at the polling place at the start of your shift.
Staff working at Out-posted Centres.	To the Out Posted Centre reception staff at the start of every shift.
Staff working at hubs.	To your supervisor at face-to-face training, before your shift starts or when meeting with AEC staff ahead of duties.
Those who do not attend face-to-face training nor have face-to-face contact with a supervisor before, or for the duration of their employment.	To the facilitator during video link training.  If training is by phone – verbal confirmation of current COVID-19 vaccination status will be requested by the AEC staff member conducting the session.

To get help with obtaining proof of your COVID-19 vaccination or medical exemption, visit Services Australia or phone the Australian Immunisation Register enquiry line on 1800 653 809 (Monday to Friday from 8:00 am – 5:00 pm).