

dear Graeme Edwin(a) Strang,

I noticed your advertisement in the Thursday August 12 Edition of the Leader. Wow! What an eye catcher.

I wish I were voting in your electoral (I phoned the leader to try and obtain some information on you, but limited resources were available) because let me tell you, I am a 19 year old female who for the duration of my 13 years of schooling on a quarterly basis recieved a lecture from my local member of parliament. A total of 52 lectures I have endured, and all of them were as shit as the next. There is no doubt, absolutely none, - that you would provide a much better outlook on our society than that of a dimwitted suited up political whore. My fingers are crossed for you this election.

And I have faith in a community that would be led by your guidance.

Thankyou.

[Signature redacted.]

