Question: I am very saddened to hear that the electorate of McMillan is to be changed to the name Monash. If this happens the AEC will have missed a wonderful opportunity to acknowledge the Aboriginal people of our area. There are already so many things named after Monash. McMillan lead a massacre at Warrigal Creek only 10km from where I live. Local Gunai Kurnai people find his name offensive. So it is good to change the name but the AEC can lead by example as a gesture of reconciliation and name the electorate after one of the names that was submitted by the joint Aboriginal submission.

Please don't name it Monash.
