Dear Sir/Madam,

I have been reading about the proposal to redistribute electoral boundaries in Victoria, and I would like to register my opposition to this.

I am in Corangamite, and up until recent times, this has been a blue ribbon Liberal seat. Now it is far more marginal, and the increase in money being spent, and improvements made, is phenomenal.

Please do not extend Wannon to the extent proposed. We have a diverse area in Corangamite as it is, and having Dan Tehan try to cover such a huge physical area is setting him up to fail. He already has a large electorate, and one that is quite different to ours here. Different industry, different products, and different land use. The country is different to the city. We need decent representation and not to have elected people run off their feet getting from one end of the electorate to the other.

Thank you for taking the time to read my thoughts

Kind Regards

Robyn Dickason
