Objection to the new Electoral Redistribution be named Hawke

In the current political climate, is it really a good idea to name an electorate after Bob Hawke, a known womaniser and lecher who also glorifies excessive drinking and being “one of the boys”. He also gave us The Accord, which has been detrimental to the workers. My first husband, [REDACTED], was employed up at [REDACTED] at the time and wrote a training course on the Accord. At the time he argued that it would be a good thing, but later admitted it was the beginning of the end for many workers’ rights.

I live in Melton, and can cope with Gorton who, even though he was a Liberal, was an honest decent man unlike the present day Prime Minister.

I take the renaming to Hawke as a personal insult to all women, and an insult to all workers.
