Objection 94

To whom it may concern,

We absolutely refute the proposed boundary changes to those in the current (and rightfully enduring) North Sydney federal electorate. It is quite laughable to see Naremburn, Greenwich, Crows Nest, St Leonards, and Wollstonecraft despite all sharing the same post code and yet detached as part of the AEC's draft plan. As adults and children living in Naremburn, I can tell you that our community is linked by Crows Nest, Northbridge, Cammeray, North Sydney, Willoughby, and Chatswood. These are the areas of our public schools and our health care facilities, where the families and communities we connect with reside. These are the locales where those in our social circles are joined and where we have shared interests and concerns. To break these areas up is wrong and will affect our day to day in a negative manner. Under the current, unjust proposal, Naremburn would fall under Bradfield. If the AEC believes that Turramurra shares similar issues and points of view with the lower North Shore than I would suggest that it is misguided and out of touch with the needs of voters.

We therefore implore you to protect North Sydney and the will of our community. Cease the unnecessary and unwarranted proposed abolishment of a seat that holds an important place in our nation's history, and a vital role in our family's future.

Kind regards,

Sarkis and Churchley families
