North Sydney is one of the oldest electorates in Australia, proclaimed in 1900 and one of the original 75 subdivisions at the first federal election. Do not destroy our history.

Your figures regarding population are incorrect for North Sydney and do not account for growth demonstrated by building applications, home/unit building going on in North Sydney.

When residents of Sydney talk about where they identify as living they don't say Bradfield or Bennelong they say Northside, Northshore, the Northshoreline or North Sydney.

I identify strongly with libraries, sporting fields, restaurants in North Sydney, not in Bradfield or Bennelong or Warringah.

North Sydney is a vibrant place full of things to do, it's a leader in ideas and innovations.

We identify strongly with our parliamentary representatives and wish them to continue their excellent work.
