HIGGINS has historically had a long and proud past since 1949, and why anyone or any entity would want to abolish this electorate entirely is a travesty. The contribution of its past members of Parliament representing this electorate has been enormous. So has the contribution of the man, Justice H B Higgins, (1851–1929), whom the electorate is named after. He was a Member of the Victorian Legislative Assembly in 1894; Founding Member of Australian House of Representatives and Attorney-General in 1904. He went on to become a Justice of the High Court of Australia (1906–1929.) Choose another area if you must but not this one!
